About the exhibition

Galerie Sara Lily Perez is pleased to announce "Natural Ethos," an evocative exhibition exploring the profound connections between nature, identity, self-reliance, and sustainable living. Running from July to August, this exhibition features the works of three contemporary female artists: Dörte Bundt, Aziya, and Mădălina Urs-Suciu. Each artist brings a unique perspective and medium to the theme, illustrating how the energy and inspiration found in nature guide human resilience and creativity.

From dawn to dusk, both nature and humans strive to exist, create, and renew themselves. This journey is vividly depicted in artworks that emphasize sustainability and self-reliance. The pieces in "Natural Ethos" do not merely depict nature; they embody a deep, symbiotic relationship between human beings and their surroundings. By engaging with traditional crafts, innovative portraiture, and monumental representations of natural elements, the artists highlight the critical balance required to sustain both human life and the planet.

The exhibition challenges us to rethink our relationship with nature, urging the adoption of sustainable practices that honor the interconnectedness of all life. Visitors are invited to reflect on their connection with nature, considering sustainable practices and the delicate balance between human needs and planetary health.

About the artists

Dörte Bundt: Utilizing the ancient craft of macramé, Dörte creates intricate and symbolic pieces with natural fibers and dyes, showcasing the sustainable nature of handcrafting. Her work reconnects with cultural roots and promotes sustainable living, emphasizing harmony between human creativity and responsibly sourced natural materials.

Aziya: Specializing in portraiture, Aziya captures the essence of women's strength and independence. Her portraits tell stories of resilience and self-reliance, with each woman depicted embodying a connection to nature. Through powerful visual narratives, Aziya illustrates the profound bond between femininity and the natural world, highlighting the continuous renewal and empowerment experienced in harmony with nature.

Mădălina Urs-Suciu: In her series "Post Melancholy," Mădălina portrays nature as a monumental force through grand depictions of natural elements. Her works emphasize nature's magnificence and resilience, reminding viewers of its capacity to endure and inspire. By showcasing the beauty and strength found in the natural world, she underscores the importance of sustainable practices for future generations.

"Natural Ethos" is a cohesive narrative that encourages a deeper understanding of self-reliance as a communal and ecological principle. It inspires visitors to adopt sustainable practices and reflect on their relationship with the environment, drawing strength and guidance from nature's enduring resilience.
